EUROPE'S MOMENT FOR COURAGE

Putting the question of power back at the heart of the European project with leaders, civil society and citizens

PROGRAMME

21 - 23 October 2026 | Strasbourg, France

A strategic, transpartisan, multidisciplinary and intergenerational initiative on European power

Europe is entering a decisive period of emerging threats for its values, citizens, institutions and businesses. The return of power politics, technological acceleration, global competition and strategic dependencies compel a question that can no longer be avoided: what kind of power does Europe want to become, and for what purpose?

The Europa Power Initiative is being launched out of this conviction by more than 300 high-level figures and is still gathering new co-founders from across Europe and beyond: political leaders including former European Commissioners, Nobel laureates, business executives, scientists, intellectuals, artists, civil-society figures, and emerging young leaders.

It is transpartisan by design and brings together personalities from across the political spectrum, including Mariya Gabriel, Margrethe Vestager, and Nicolas Schmit, alongside figures such as Paolo Gentiloni, Jean-Marie Lehn, Sabine Verheyen, and Yury Revich — from politics, science, business, culture, territories, and civil society.

Europe must recover the capacity to act, protect, invest, innovate, and shape its future — faithful to the rule of law, cooperation, democracy, and human dignity. Power, here, is not domination; it means collective capacity: the capacity to decide, anticipate, protect citizens, and contribute to a world order based on cooperation.

A constituent assembly and a founding declaration

The Initiative was founded in Strasbourg on 26–27 November 2025, at the first Europa Power Conference. This constituent assembly of co-founders concluded with the adoption of the Declaration of Strasbourg in the European Parliament, affirming that Europe must strengthen its capacity to act and root its strategic ambition in law, cooperation, and democratic legitimacy.
